

Innovation & Partnership in the Uplands

A community partnership event organised by the Irish Uplands Forum

Thursday 4th &
Friday 5th October 2018

GN Mulranny Park Hotel, Mulranny, Co. Mayo

This 2-Day Event Aims to:

- Bring together established and emerging upland community based groups
- Present the findings of a study of All-Island Upland Communities commissioned by the Irish Uplands Forum
- Explore the Upland environment of the Nephin Beg Mountains along with neighbouring Wild Nephin and Ballycroy National Park
- Discuss upland innovation and partnership challenges and opportunities including: agri-environmental schemes, socio-economic profiles of the uplands, growing effective partnerships and international innovation models.

The Meeting Will Involve:

- Field trips with Irish Natura Hill Farmers Association and NPWS Rangers
- Inputs from local, national and international speakers on upland issues
- Workshops on eco-tourism innovation, recreation, partnerships, rural diversification and agri-environmental schemes
- Conference dinner and entertainment
- Student poster presentation and national schools competition

Who Should Attend:

Representatives of upland partnership groups; individuals and representatives from LEADER partnerships; local community organisations; landowners and their organisations; recreational/environmental/heritage organisations; local and national statutory bodies and state agencies; recreational users and organisations; local authorities and anybody who cares about the future of upland landscapes and communities.

Irish Uplands Forum is a partnership that aims to promote mutual understanding among those who live, work and or recreate in upland areas
